

Important Notice

Our judging for 2021 follows the same format as 2020, which was in line with Covid-19 restrictions.

The Blas judging is a blind tasting and, as part of this, our judges always have an element of separation so there is no conferring. Therefore we are able to implement social distancing measures for judging. We are working with UCC & TU Dublin as always.

The judging is the most critical part of our work. We have always worked to ensure that this stage is rigorously and fairly organised, that each entry is handled with care and just as the producer themselves would handle and present it. We will continue to maintain these standards while also adhering to government guidelines around Covid-19

In 2020 the awards went ahead within the restrictions at that time, while at the time it seemed like the most unique of circumstances we are now planning for our judging in 2021 to follow the same format and have a template in place for this which was successful in 2020, you can find out more about how we did this here.
